One Wounded, Six Held in Shooting At Venice Tavern

One youth is in St. Elizabeth Hospital with a bullet wound in his left arm, and six other men were held by police this morning as the result of a shooting at 12:30 a.m. today in the Kingsbury Tavern, 401 Weaver street, Venice.

The shooting victim was identified by Police Chief Frank DeWitt as Nathaniel Dillard, 19, of 908 Franklin avenue, West Madison. Dillard, according to police, wounded himself with a gun he had been pointing at another man, but which was deflected by a blow during the altercation in a rear room of the tavern.

Held for investigation were: Johnny Williams, 20, of 183 Lee; Wright Holmes; Russell Humble, 25, of 1014 Douglas avenue; Penny Reese, 30, alias Finney Road, 1125 Logan street; Roland McClellan, 20, of 48 Lee; Wright Holmes; Thad Harrell, 20, of 1125 Logan street; and Charles Haynes, 41, of 164 Lee; Wright Holmes, all of Venice.

Venice police said they were called at 12:30 a.m. to St. Elizabeth Hospital when they were informed a man was being treated for a bullet wound. They said Dillard told them he had been hitchhiking on Route 95, had heard a shot and felt a pain in his arm. He said a friend whom he identified as Charles Haynes picked him up on the highway and took him to the hospital.

A short time later, a tavern patron notified police that he had heard a shot from a rear room in the Kingsbury Tavern and that a man had been taken to the hospital. Police arrested Williams and McClellan within a short time and the arrest of the others followed.

Police said McClellan told them Dillard was pointing a gun at Haynes during an argument and that he knocked Dillard's arm down, causing the gun to discharge. The bullet passed through Dillard's left forearm.

No Decisions Yet On Area RR Yards In N&W Merger

A five-day conference on the merger of the Wabash and Nickel Plate railroads with the Norfolk & Western Railroad, involving about 50 workers in the Quad-Cities area, was attended at Cleveland, O., by Charles W. Moerlein, member of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers executive board and grievance committee.

Moerlein, who returned yesterday, said further meetings are to be held to determine what transfers are to be made among the local yards and how employees are to be rated in seniority.

He said that expansion is planned for the future in the Mitchell area yards, but that the Nickel Plate Yards in Cloverleaf at Madison may be closed within two years. There are about 360 employees there.

The merged railroads also operate yards at Brooklyn and at 25th street in Granite City. Moerlein is a First Ward alderman in Granite City.

Grade School, Jr. High to be Named

Naming of a new grade school and a new junior high school will occupy the Granite City school board during part of its business meeting at 7:30 tonight. The two schools currently are in the design stage following public approval of a bond issue in May 1964.

A director of the gifted pupil program is to be named, and decisions are to be taken on teachers eligible for re-employment.

There will be consideration of a substantial leave, leave of absence, resignations, trips and hiring of a cafeteria worker, two custodians and several teachers.

Bids in eight categories will be considered, along with a proposed bid for high school gymnasium floor replacement bids. Also scheduled are formal notice of the April 10 board election, discussion of school sewer fees and reports on a variety of topics, including status of the former downtown post office.

 Construction and installation of the mill will be handled by a three-party joint venture group composed of Mexia Machine Co., J. M. Foster Construction Co. of Gary, Ind., and S. M. Wilson & Co. of Granite City.

The first series of rolling units which is the continuous roughing mill "train" will include a detached vertical edging mill, two 2-high roughing mills with attached edgers, a four-high universal roughing mill followed by a rotary cropping shear and a scale-breaking stand. There will be seven 4-high finishing mill stands which will deliver the hot rolled steel to three powerful downcoilers.

Granite City Steel's new hot mill will have one more rolling stand in the finishing train than most continuous hot strip mills. Among the mill's outstanding features will be a new design for the slab reheat furnaces and a rapid roll-changing system to reduce mill downtime.

The seven finishing mill stands and one of the roughing mill stands will be equipped with automatic roll-changing units capable of replacing the 16 heavy work rolls on the eight stands in five minutes. Vertical edgers and other roughing mill stands will be equipped with roll changing slide and "C" hooks.

Construction of the new hot strip mill will not interfere with Granite City Steel Company's regular production. The company's existing hot rolling department will remain in operation until the new mill has been built and broken in.

Regional Reflections

Back-to-Back Games Cut Trojans' Zip In Final Against Well-Rested Kahoks

Madison's three-game effort in the regional tournament was a surprise and the Trojans gained the admiration of the spectators by taking the mighty Collinsville Kahoks down to the closing moments before finally bowing.

Trojan coach Earl McClanahan was obviously well-pleased with his team. After the Thursday night victory, he said: "No matter what happens tomorrow night, I can't be too unhappy. We've played a couple of pretty good ball games."

McClanahan thought the extra night's rest that the Kahoks enjoyed between the semifinal and championship night had been the difference.

"Collinsville got a tough defense," he said, "and we just didn't have the zip to crack it. The Kahoks pressed the Trojans, then sank back into a 1-2-2 zone."

PRESS-RECORD SPORTS

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

making it hard for big Paul Lusk to find working room.

The Trojans had their troubles at the free throw line, just 31 of 67 shots in the three games—a sub-par 46%. They did better from the field, making 86 of 168 for 51%.

By contrast, the Kahoks made 80 of 84 free shots (71%) and 77 of 103 field attempts (47%). The other semifinals also had some free throw troubles. In two games, Altan made 25 of 42 (59%) and Edwardsville hit 29 of 52 (56%).

In the seven games, all teams combined made 338 of 761 field attempts (47%) and 206 of 341 free throws (60%). Ironically, two first-round losers had the best single game marks—Granite City making 30 of 53 field shots (57%) and Roxana converting 24 of 31 free throws (77%).

There were the usual grumblings about the "hard" Granite City floor. Edwardsville's Ed Altan suffered a leg injury as he came down with a rebound in the opening round game and Madison's Lusk complained of painful shin splints.

Jack Darlington of Collinsville came down on his head after fighting Lusk for a rebound in the final game. He was dazed briefly, but was able to continue to play.

Opposing coaches have been unhappy with the floor and some have considered refusing to play here. The school board has decided to replace the endgrain blocks with edge-grain strip maple and a cork base.

OUTSCORED FROM FIELD

The Trojans outscored the Kahoks in field goals, making 28 of 59 shots (47%) to the champions' 25 of 56 (45%). But the Collinsville boys exhibited outstanding accuracy from the free throw line, making 20 of 27 (74%) to Madison's six of 12.

Madison's forte, of course, is a harassing press defense—extremely effective in the first two tournament games. Coach Vergil Fletcher elected to fight back with a press of his own, and the strategy worked.

While the Kahoks stole the ball 11 times and gained possession 11 times on turnovers, the Trojans made six steals and were able to force the machine-pressed Kahoks into only four turnovers. Collinsville made eight of those steals in the first half in compiling a 38-31 lead.

Kahoks Win Final 70-62 Over Surprising Trojans

Collinsville's Kahoks, as expected, advanced to the Wood River sectional basketball tournament but they had to fight off the underdog Madison Trojans to do it.

The Kahoks, now 24-2, downed the Trojans 70-62 in the championship game of the Granite City regional tournament Friday night at Wood River. The sectional opens Wednesday night with the Belleville Maroons (20-7) meeting the Pleasant Hill Wolves (24-3).

The title game is Friday night with the victor advancing to the super-sectional March 16 at Olney, first round of the "Sweet Sixteen." The opponent will be the winner of the Olney sectional where Effingham St. Anthony's (22-5) meets Lawrenceville (23-3) and Greenville (22-4) plays Charleston (21-5).

A set shot by Don Birger put the Kahoks ahead 12-10 with 2:20 left in the first quarter and they led throughout the rest of the regional championship contest. But the Trojans, never seeded among the top four teams prior to the tourney, kept within sight of victory up to the final three minutes.

Coach Earl McClanahan's team, which had advanced Thursday night with a 67-62 victory over the Edwardsville Tigers, came within four points (62-58) of the Kahoks with 3:50 left in the game. Then a long jumper by Harry Parker and three free throws in the next minute upped the Collinsville advantage to 67-58.

It was scramble-time—a fast-paced basketball free-for-all between two teams specializing in aggressive defense and razzle-dazzle offense. Force the opponent into mistakes. Steal the ball. Shoot it up there. If you miss your way to the ball and try again.

Flawless basketball it was not. The boys traveled, double-fouled, kicked the ball, stayed in the lane too long. Bad passes were frequent; so were reckless shots. There were 46 personal fouls and two technicals and the free throw shooting was miserable. Yet, exciting it was—the best crowd-pleaser of the six pre-championship games.

The Trojans went ahead 16-12 in the first quarter and led 27-21 with 2:45 left in the first half. Two minutes and 30 seconds later, they still had 27 points but the Tigers had 31. Edwardsville fans screamed with joy.

They were winning—their Tiger.

Man Alive, 39-51! The third quarter was quite different. Lusk scored 12 points, his team 20 to Edwardsville 10, mere five. The Trojans made 10 of 22 field shots while the Tigers took only seven and made just two. Madison was ahead 43-35 and stayed ahead.

The Tigers rallied enough in the fourth quarter to cut the lead to 49-43 with 1:30 left. Lusk scored 20, Turner 19, Fouts 17 and DeYang 11 for all of Madison's points. Randy Phelps had 22 and Danny Suss 19 (well below his average of 20 at Edwardsville). The Tigers racked up 28 fouls and three starters: Mickey Moore, Bill Lacey and Chuck Fort, fouled out in the fourth quarter.

Remarkably, both teams shot better from the field than the free throw line. Madison made 28 of 59 field shots (47%) to a mere 15 of 34 free shots (45%). Corresponding figures for Edwardsville were 27 of 53 (51%) and eight of 20 (40%). Madison led in rebounds 24-21.

The Trojans made 16 steals in the game and forced their opponents into about 30 turnovers. That's much better than the 18 to 20 total steals and turnovers the locals strive for in each game.

Dog Trials Set Saturday At Mulberry Grove Farm

The annual spring field trial, sponsored by the True Sportsman's Hunting & Fishing Club of Mulberry Grove, is scheduled Saturday at Varnell's Farms, three miles north of Mulberry Grove.

Entries are being accepted by secretary Jim Batson, 2641 Center street, Granite City. Assignments will be made Wednesday at Chuck's Tavern & Restaurant here.

Bel Has 7.3 Average

Cecil Bell has 7.3 scoring average in 21 games for Canton (Ill.) Junior College. Bell, former Madison high school ace, has hit 56 of 168 field goal attempts (33%) and 44 of 63 free throws (69%). He has 51 rebounds and 28 personal fouls in the Crusaders' 21-6 season. Coy Nunn of East St. Louis is averaging 9.8 points per game.

Tryouts Scheduled By Little League; One Manager Needed

Tryouts for the Nemolet Little League will be held next month at the organization's baseball field, Johnson road and Amos avenue.

Boys aged 9-10 will report at 10 a.m. April 3. Players 11-12 will try out at 10 a.m. April 10.

In case of rain, the tryouts will be held April 17. Boys on league teams last year are considered experienced and need not attend tryouts, unless they wish to seek advancement from the Minor Division to the Major Division.

Boys who will be 13 years old before Aug. 1 are not eligible for participation. Players must live within the league boundaries. Alton & Southern railroad tracks on the east, along Morris road, Highway 203, Pontoon road, Highway Three, Fehling road and Nemolet road and St. Clair avenue on the south to Dale avenue, down Wilson avenue to the railroad tracks.

President Henry Thomas says one more manager is needed for a Major team. Interested adults may call Thomas at TR 7-4159. The league opens May 8.

Corruptors, Trojans, Warriors Inter-City 'Y' Cage Champions

YMCA boys' basketball inter-city playoff championships were won Saturday at the "Y" by the Madison Corruptors in the Junior eighth-ninth grades division, the Madison Trojans at the Trailblazer sixth-seventh grades level and the Granite City Warriors in the Preps fourth-fifth grades division.

The Corruptors upset the favored Granite City Junior Y's 68-48, the Trojans edged the Granite City No-Names 23-18 and the Warriors downed the Madison Blue Angels 18-7. High scorers in that order were Bernard Parnon 24, Jerry Paulova 16, Bob Ervin nine, Denny Heber and John Berensky tied with six apiece, Eric Stuber six and Varnell Glasper all seven for the Blue Angels.

The games ended the "Y" cage season for 1964-65—one of the most successful in years. City's and inter-city winners will be honored at an awards ceremony, date of which is to be set.

Bobby Price Named Coach at Missouri

Bobby Price, former basketball great at Madison and Granite City high schools, has accepted a high-level coaching job. Don Faurel, University of Missouri athletic director, announced that Price has been appointed assistant basketball coach at the university. The ex-Mizzou captain takes over the position at the tender age of 22.

"I'm especially happy to have a young fellow like Price," said head coach Bob Varnett. "He was a competitive hustler on the court and I'm sure he'll carry this over into coaching."

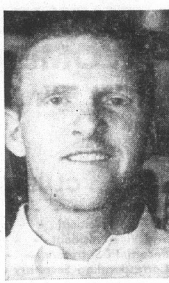

Price played three years of basketball at Madison before transferring to Granite City high school. He lettered in basketball and baseball at both schools.

At Missouri, he won three letters each in the two sports. He was an All-Big Eight selection in basketball and played first base last spring as the Tigers finished second in the NAA College World Series.

He succeeds Ralph Pederson, who resigned last September to become head coach at Tulane University. Mike Kirksey, former Mizzou star, has been interim assistant. Price has been helping Agutis this season with recruiting and in practice sessions.

Price's acceptance means the end of his professional baseball career. He signed with the Minnesota Twins last year and played in the Florida Rookie League.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvel Price, 2674 Iowa street, he is married and father of an infant daughter. He has two brothers, Donald Price, a teacher in

NEW ASSISTANT COACH for the University of Missouri basketball team is 22-year-old Bobby Price of Granite City.

Mizzou currently has a 13-10 win-loss record.

"A RECORD of DEDICATED PUBLIC SERVICE"

ANDY GASPAROVIC
Police Magistrate

TO THE VOTERS of GRANITE CITY

I am completing 16 years of continuous service as your Police Magistrate for which I am deeply grateful to the many thousands of citizens of Granite City, for their confidence in keeping me in this office.

Due to circumstances beyond my control, the office of Police Magistrate having been abolished by the recently enacted Judicial Reform Act, I must now seek other office and respectfully and hopefully submit myself to you as an Independent candidate for Tax Assessor, in the forthcoming election.

I feel that I have the necessary qualifications for this very important office, which deals directly with the welfare of all property owners, large and small, through my sixteen years of direct contact with people in all walks of life, during the four consecutive terms I served as your Police Magistrate.

My past record will show that I conducted that office with fairness and impartiality, and I give you here and now, my solemn promise that the tax problem of every property owner, large or small, will be heard and judged on its merits, and not on personalities or political entanglements.

I am 57 years of age, live with my wife Ann at 2150 Edison Avenue. We have nine children and 10 grandchildren, have been a resident of Granite City since 1917, attended St. Joseph's and McKinley grade schools and Community High School, was employed at Granite City Steel Company from 1922 until 1959, am a member of Steel Workers Union Local 30 and various civic, fraternal and service organizations.

Andrew "Judge" Gasparovic Jr.

Registration Deadline for Town Election is Tonight

Voters registration for the April 6 township election—required for the first time this year—will end today with the close of registrars' offices in the Quad-City area and the county clerk's office in Edwardsville. No special hours have been arranged for late registrations. Only service given tonight will be by appointment with those registrars who are willing to permit such arrangements.

To accommodate new voters, those who will be 21 years of age on or before April 6, a series of special registration centers has been operating in the area during the past three weeks. Among those that have been maintaining hours past a 3 p.m. closing are: Granite City, Mrs. Oliver Slight, 2229 Bryan avenue, evenings by appointment; Mrs. Rose Turner, 2141 Waterman avenue, 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.; Mrs. Elvira Thurber, 1932 State street, evenings by appointment.

Miss Editha Hotz, Madison county clerk, said that all new registrations will be turned in to her office after today's deadline and registration cards will be issued immediately. She said registration work will be completed as quickly as possible since new precinct registration

Four Assessment Districts Proposed

House Bill 207, sponsored by Rep. John Conely and 35 other co-sponsoring representatives, has for its purpose the securing of "practical and common sense equality in property taxation," the "Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois" explained this week.

The bill, drafted by the federation's staff, provides that county boards of counties with a population of 100,000 or more (but less than 500,000 inhabitants, including Madison county, are permitted by Jan. 1, 1966, to divide the county into four assessment districts.

For district No. 1, quadrennial assessment years are designated as 1967, 1970 and every fourth year thereafter; for assessment district No. 2, 1968, 1971 and every fourth year thereafter; for the third district, 1969, 1972 and every fourth year thereafter; and for district No. 4, 1969 and every fourth year thereafter.

"It is common knowledge that under the present system the time required in making the quadrennial assessment and hearing complaints in larger counties is not sufficient to allow the work to be done efficiently; that the assessor is often obliged to recruit a large force of extra employees during this period, many of whom are inexperienced; that any delays cost local taxpayers large sums of money in interest on tax warrants to finance local governmental operations during the delays; and that such difficulties presently encountered could be eliminated by staggering the quadrennial assessment years," a federation spokesman commented.

"The Department of Revenue, in counties adopting the procedure of House Bill 207 if it becomes law, would equalize assessments by assessment districts. Means are thus provided whereby discrepancies in valuation as between different districts can be removed.

The Illinois General Assembly passed a bill in 1959 which provides for four assessment districts in Cook county, and the Illinois Supreme Court sustained its constitutionality. It said in its decision that the General Assembly in passing the bill was attempting to solve the serious administrative problem created by the necessity of completing a timely assessment of the many parcels of real estate in a large county within the same quadrennial year."

It was one of nine issued during the first week of March, listing values totaling $125,010. The office building will have dimensions of 36 feet, 6½ inches, by 39 feet, 3¼ inches. Gabriel & Duggeroff is the architectural firm and Edw. Moore of Granite City is the contractor.

Firm To Panel Walls
Two other permits for commercial purposes were issued. One was to repair and install paneling on the walls of the De Witt Paint store, 1841 Delmar avenue, at a cost of $18,000, and the other went to Leo Dohlin for general repairs and new front windows at a shop at 1340 Nidringhaus avenue at a cost of $300.

A permit was obtained by Maria Baker for a duplex brick veneer home at 3205 Kilnary avenue, $19,000, and another by Lillian Hanken, 2830 Marshall avenue, for a trailer to be used as a permanent dwelling in the yard, $9510.

Pentecostal Church Erecting Structure At Cost of $60,000

A new church building is under construction at a cost of $60,000 for the congregation of the Pentecostal Assembly Church now meeting at East 24th street and Bromley avenue. Located at 4650 Maryville road, directly across from the Maryville school, the church should be completed in about three months. Footings were poured last week.

Rev. Harold Maynard, pastor, said it will be a one-story brick structure with stone trimming and will have a seating capacity for about 200 persons. A dedication service is being planned when the building is ready for use.

The building will be air conditioned and will have a plaster and paneled interior, fluorescent lights, a baptistry and folding sections on both sides for seating.

The contractor is the Sweet Construction Co. of Wood River.

Change on Income Tax Data for Dividends

Federal income taxpayers who have dividend or interest income to report won't need to file a Schedule B this year. This information can now be reported right on the regular Form 1040 according to Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for Southern Illinois.

The second side of the single Form 1040 has space for dividend and interest income data. Previously this information had to be reported on the separate Schedule B.

Philpott said that many taxpayers are adding for Schedule B's when they don't really need them. Only Form 1040 is needed to report dividends and interest.

on a fence and reaching a wash room window on the second floor. He showed police his method yesterday. He broke a window to open the door to the club room.

Coin Boxes Opened

About $60 to $70 in coins was taken from the bowling machine and pool table coin boxes which were pried open, and four new half dollars were taken from the cash register. An unsuccessful attempt was made to open a safe which was damaged and jammed shut, requiring the services of a safe expert to open it.

Cigars and other items were scattered on the floor, and a cigar box was used to carry the change. Police learned the youth caught a taxi at 21st street and Delmar avenue, paying the driver one of the half dollars and tipping him with the other.

A $100 check and $15 in cash were taken at the employment service office. A desk was ransacked and papers were scattered on the floor. A year door glass was broken to gain entry. Nothing was taken at the Reinhardt agency, but drawers were ransacked. Entry was gained by breaking a wash room window.

Mrs. Frank Ruppel, who lives above the Zip Top tavern, was aroused at 3:20 a.m. Saturday when she heard a noise in the tavern. She called police who found that the glass was broken out of a south side door. There was no entry.

Burglars made heavy hauls in a series of weekend break-ins in the 2400 block of Benton street, where they stole food, cash, beer and other merchandise. Several hundred dollars worth of hams, bacon and butter were stolen from a grocery store and thieves got away with an undetermined amount of cash from a service station.

Lost valued at $400 to $500 were taken early Sunday from Lesko's Inn, 608 McCambridge avenue, by brazen burglars who smashed a front window and hauled about 30 boxes of beer and liquor and merchandise through the broken window. "They must have had a truck," police said. "They have taken at least two cars to haul all that away." Lesko said.

"This burglary is the second place has been cleaned out in two years, and this one cost me $400 to $500," Lesko said. "The burglars hit the tavern between 3 and 5:30 a.m. and went on the north side and the front door was badly damaged, but withstood the burglars' attempts to pry them open. Entry finally was gained by smashing a large plate glass window in front."

About $12 in coins was taken from the register, and the burglars helped themselves to 20 cases of beer and the entire bar and wine stock, including 12 open bottles on the back counter. Also taken were the stocks of gum, candy, tobacco, aspirin and other merchandise.

The box, which weighed from 150 to 200 pounds, was taken to a storage room where it was broken open.

Entrance was gained by breaking a glass in a door on the north side.

The Courage To Be Imperfect

(More of the views of Dr. Randolph Brinkman, whose writings are discussed in 7300 p.m. Monday panels' meetings at the YMCA.)

The courage to be imperfect. In this one subject, a number of basic problems facing us come to the fore. In this time of our culture, our need for re-orientation in a changing culture, the basic problems of education and, finally, an area where we may learn eventually to deal more efficiently with ourselves. Perfectionism is rampant to day.

A great many people try to do right and to be perfect. Many psychiatrists are cutting on to the implications of such a demand which has right depraved our fellow men and our society.

What right do we have to interfere with people's desire to be right and to do right and to be perfect? It may be preposterous to do so. God is the ideal of perfection. The question of justice is intrinsically linked to the demand to be perfect. It is distinguished from wrong, punishing the wrong and praising the right. Moral standards are not set without a clear distinction between right and wrong, and without stimulating efforts toward the right.

But as it is that right and wrong are judgments; in many cases, values judgments. Right and wrong can be clearly defined only when we have absolutes. There are many people who out of the tradition of our culture are still looking for this absolute. That is, we think, and perhaps the way we have to act.

Changing Civilization. What we don't realize is that all of these absolutes are part of a civilization which has become democratic. It is the only possible if we have an authority which decides what is right and wrong.

In our private lives, we have become such an authority because each one of us determines for himself what is right and wrong—what is true and false. But when it comes to a general statement, we run into trouble. What is right for one may be wrong for the other. What is beautiful, may not be so for another.

While we are losing the authoritarian order in our society, we lose more and more the authorities which establish absolute judgments. Right and wrong are no longer absolutes. Every truth in the time being until a better truth is found.

"I have found many people who try hard to be good. I have failed yet to see that they have done so for the welfare of others. What I find is a concern with their own progress, their need for the benefit of their self-elevation. Anybody really concerned with the welfare of others won't have any time or interest to become concerned with the question of how good he is. (Horizontal, Vertical)

Some people entirely and other people in certain areas move on the horizontal plane in a sense that whatever they do is for others. They are interested in others; they merely incidentally on the vertical plane, whatever people are doing is done because they want to be higher, to be better.

Improvement and contributions can be achieved in either way. There are people who do something well because they enjoy doing it; others do it well because they are glad to provide good they are.

Human progress probably depends on both types of contributions. Many have been of tremendous benefit to mankind through their own doing; others have done a great deal of good for others by their own doing. The question of what they may get out of it, there is a fundamental difference. When you move on the vertical plane you increase your knowledge, status, respect, prestige and perhaps even money. You move a few notches up in doing something good, and move back down when a mistake is made. Up and down, up and down.

Reason For Anxieties. This is the plane on which most of us move today. The competition is not only for the person who moves on the vertical plane can never be sure he is high enough, or that he is not coming down again. Therefore, he has to live with tension, fears and anxieties. He constantly feels that he is not doing well enough, or that he is not doing well enough, or that he is not doing well enough.

Quite different is the movement on the horizontal plane. The individual who moves ahead in the direction he wants to move; he doesn't move up but he moves ahead. When he considers what's going on, he finds a great deal of freedom to move in any direction. He is merely motivated by interests. If his motivation is strong, he may even have enthusiasm. He doesn't think about his own self-evaluation. He is interested in functioning.

On the horizontal plane we have the desire to be useful. On the vertical plane, we have the desire to be useful. On the vertical plane, we have the desire to be useful. On the vertical plane, we have the desire to be useful.

People sometimes try to be good. They sometimes try to be good. They sometimes try to be good. They sometimes try to be good. They sometimes try to be good.

Now Is The Best Time To Revise Salary Of Mayor

Now that action has been taken on the pay of Granite City municipal officials, attention centers on the inadequate salary level for the mayor. To be effective for the next four years, any increase will require council action before current terms expire May 1.

Since the pay is for the officer rather than the man, it would seem fair and wise—particularly with so many aldermen running for mayor—to proceed now before the election outcome is known. There cannot help but be at least three unhappy people participating in council deliberations during the post-election period in April.

Whatever level is set should take into consideration that the present remuneration is $11,400, including $9000 yearly salary and a $2400 allowance. Since it would be far sounder to limit allowances of all officials to reimbursement of their specific expenses, a basic salary in the neighborhood of $12,000 and elimination of the flat $2400 figure would have merit.

More Overlapping, Complexity In Federal Taxes For Education

Aside from whatever other good or harm that results, new federal tax allocations for education seem certain to accelerate the trend toward complex overlapping in the field.

Funds presently going to schools currently can be obtained under certain circumstances from nine different Department of Health, Education and Welfare agencies and from four Department of Labor programs and from four independent federal agencies. Teaching equipment and materials can be financed through ten HEW divisions, three Labor Department units and four other agencies.

Teaching of the handicapped and disadvantaged relates to eight Washington Bureau, adult education to 10, teacher training to a different 10, guidance counseling to nine, training of dropouts to eight, demonstration projects to 11 and educational research to 13 agencies.

Viewed from another direction, the National Defense Education Act now covers 11 phases of the educational program, the Economic Opportunity Act 13, the National Education Act 16, the National Science Foundation seven school programs, and so on, ad infinitum.

Concern is being expressed by Quad-City school men that less by education and more by bureaucrats. Judging by the long list of existing activities involving money, goals and standards, there is a valid basis for such worry.

The problem goes beyond the question of "local or national control." Next type of federal tax aid may need to be for hiring a "Philadelphia lawyer" in each system to keep track of what funds are being sought.

The trouble with putting in your two cents' worth nowadays is that it costs five cents to mail it.

Venice Rectory Another Landmark Giving Way To Change, Progress

Razing of St. Mark's rectory eliminates a landmark which had been a part of the Catholic parish since a church, school and other facilities were established in the Sixth street and Broadway area in 1893.

Records of the Venice parish go back much farther, to the early 1800's making it the oldest religious institution in the Quad-Cities and one of the oldest in Madison county; earlier locations included Abbott street and the Second and Gravelle streets.

But the present rectory, scheduled to be replaced this spring with a more modern residence, is the only one in the memory of all but the oldest members of St. Mark's. Its removal adds to similar activity elsewhere in the Quad-Cities during the mid-1960's, an era of change and renewal unmatched at any previous point in local history.

Grassroots Literature—Found Regularly In Hometown Newspapers

Within the past year newspaper writing was belittled as "rubbish journalism" in the bulletin of the American Association of University Professors. One professor disagreed to the extent that he investigated. The conclusion he has since reached is that non-daily newspapers—the subject he chose to study—had the most profound and journalistic efforts but also writing the "literature."

We agree that semi-weekly and weekly newspapers endeavor to equal and exceed the caliber of their daily counterparts in many other publications. They are participating in council deliberations during the post-election period in April.

Whatever level is set should take into consideration that the present remuneration is $11,400, including $9000 yearly salary and a $2400 allowance. Since it would be far sounder to limit allowances of all officials to reimbursement of their specific expenses, a basic salary in the neighborhood of $12,000 and elimination of the flat $2400 figure would have merit.

It was the Windsor, Colo., Beacon which said, "Many a child who watches TV will go down in history—not to mention the English and the geography." Another Colorado weekly, the Grand Empire-Courier, said, "If you've given up trying to get something out, tell a four-year-old not to touch it." It is the opinion of the Danville, Va., Commercial Appeal that "competition is what makes all the good television shows come on at the same time."

The Greensboro, N.C., Graphic summed up character as the courage to say "No" when it would be easier to say "Yes" and the will to say "Yes" when it would be selfish to say "No." The Pocatello, Id., Intermountain described the basnet as a "Republican bait." You can't pick it up by the handle, you can't keep it from running now by telling it to wait for 1968.

These are those poor, benighted souls who contend that autumn is nothing more than the absence of chlorophyll in the vegetation. The St. Paul, Minn., Star-Tribune began a widely-cited commentary that included such phrases as "a crimson carpet of sumac leaves" and "familiar haze-enveloped hills sound suddenly remote and undefined." It's the sound of bonfires crackling; it's a branch of bittersweet in a burnished bush; it's a branch of bittersweet in a burnished bush; it's a branch of bittersweet in a burnished bush.

Pointed humor, the foibles of men, political issues and philosophy all are discussed with grace and perception on the pages of newspapers in every part of America. They are contagious. Yes, they are only a legal and arbitrary boundary dividing them.

50 YEARS AGO

News From The Files Of The Granite City Press-Record

MARCH 9, 1915

Granite City is experiencing a campaign of votes today, the like of which has never before been brought about—even in Granite City, where they are unusual in the order of the day. The industry at noon today was that more suffragette votes will be cast than those by male voters.

Every candidate in Granite City has a host of workers and they have "made the fur fly" during the past two days. As a result, the polls this morning present an entirely different aspect from former elections.

Workers are lined up alongside their husbands and brothers, working ardently for their respective candidates. In the majority race, the women predominate. Practically every candidate has a number of women securing the city for votes.

The women do not confine their efforts to hauling loads, for in many cases they are where a machine has been sent out. It has returned with a number of women, some of them men, who have been "picked up" along the routes. Mrs. Morgan LeMaster stated that of the most aggressive campaigners.

Henry Knufinke, a Naeveki, went hunting in an automobile and returned home laden with a number of game birds. He is seeking all winter. He killed the wolf which has been at large in the entire winter season, which has wrought much havoc among the pig sties and chicken pens.

The wolf was first sighted on the Conrad Hart farm north of Naeveki. It was too far away for a shot. The boys gave chase and for three hours raced back and forth across the field after the animal. Finally, the wolf took a course which led it into Naeveki from the north.

Miss Edith F. Naeveki, who has been at the Naeveki, returned home laden with a number of game birds. He is seeking all winter. He killed the wolf which has been at large in the entire winter season, which has wrought much havoc among the pig sties and chicken pens.

Mr. and Mrs. James West returned from a trip to Florida and the Bahamas. They left Feb. 15, while in Nassau, Bahamas. Mrs. Fossick purchased a 13-room home, where she plans to spend the winter months. The dwelling is one block from the ocean and directly across from the Naeveki. The newly-purchased home is leased to an English family until May 31.

After advancing to the finals of the Ozark AAU basketball tournament, the Naeveki team of Granite City went down to defeat 44-37 at the hands of the United States team of St. Louis.

Benice Jilek of Granite City was elected an officer of the Catholic Youth Organization of the Alton Diocese at a meeting in Alton, Julia Maher of Venice and Glen Grumond of Granite City were named as chairmen of committees.

Wood River and O'Fallon, two favored teams in the Highland sectional basketball tournament, won their opening games in the first round. The O'Fallon team won their game easily turned to the second round of play. Wood River easily turned to the second round of play. Wood River easily turned to the second round of play.

Granite City's $840,000 low rent (federal housing project) will be erected on approximately 24 acres of land lying on the west side of Naeveki road, between the Illinois Terminal Railroad tracks on the north and Edwards street on the south. If options signed this week by the Granite City Housing Authority and the five owners are approved in Washington, D.C., total cost of the land is $41,450, which includes the new town dwellings that will be used as temporary offices by the construction company. The housing authority took an option of 22 acres and nine vacant lots owned by A. W. Morris Jr., which is being sold at $100,000, which was finally approved on a schedule tonight. The total cost for the acreage of $28,950. The price to be paid for the nine lots is $800, a piece.

The Union Electric Co., under fire of the Federal Securities Exchange Commission, is now investigating alleged political activities of the firm, plans to ask the Federal Reserve Commission and the Federal Power Commission for approval of expenditures of $100,000 per year for the new turbine generating plant at Venetia, Ill. It was disclosed today that G. K. Miltenberger, chief engineer of the utility, said the company hopes to start preliminary engineering work on the plant in the next 30 days. He said the proposed plant would cost between $8 million and $10 million and be located on the south side of McKinley Bridge near the present Venice power plant.

Skubish Defends Record On Voting, Attendance

Sixth Ward Alerman Casner Skubish, who is seeking reelection, said in a statement to the press that he was "defending a propaganda letter which is derogatory to my character."

"I am interested in good public service at the lowest possible cost and have been elected by action of the people and my friends, not by a machine as Richard Fry indicates. What kind of machine is my opponent representing?"

"I gave up Sundays to my job so I would have the following Monday off for council meetings. I have checked my records at the city clerk's office, available to anyone, and I have a perfect attendance record with the exception of a two-week vacation spent in Colorado with my family."

"Out of the past 58 meetings up to Feb. 1, I attended 54 and was absent on four occasions due to a change in my work schedule or vacation."

"My opponent has never mentioned his views on city affairs. I heard from my opponent once by telephone late last fall with reference to redistricting in order that we might set a boundary map between our homes, thus creating no competition between us in the coming election."

"We have made numerous calls to the state highway department concerning the widening of Nameoki road. It will take a united effort by our citizens, city and state officials to complete the widening. My opponent proposes to correct this single-handed."

"Air pollution has been a sore source of trouble to us. In the city hall have tried diligently to gain support from the U.S. Public Health Service, State Board of Health, the governor and from others with authority in order that we might clear the air. The city has currently employed a chemical testing engineering firm to help combat the problem."

Barnes Resigns Post With Retailers

Alvin T. Barnes Jr., executive director of the Associated Retailers & Civic Association, Inc., since November 1963, announced his resignation to the association's board of directors at a meeting Saturday afternoon effective immediately.

Barnes, a former sports reporter on a St. Louis daily, said he plans to go into business with his brother at Cairo, Ill., in the near future. His brother has operated a printing business in that southern Illinois city since 1932. Barnes said he also has an offer from a credit bureau serving the Cairo-Sikeston, Mo. area.

The two brothers plan to publish a weekly newspaper, covering not only the city of Cairo, which has a daily newspaper, but western Kentucky and counties in Illinois — Alexander, Union and Paducah.

"I have enjoyed my stay in Granite City and my work with the 'retailers', Barnes stated, but feel I have a better opportunity in this new venture."

GC Steel Seeks Review Of State Labor Ruling

Granite City Steel Co. is seeking a judicial review by the Madison county circuit court of an administrative decision by the board of review of the State Department of Labor over unemployment compensation paid to an employee for a one-week period.

According to the complaint and attached exhibits, Charles R. Lupardus of Granite City was laid off from his job as a galvanizing sheet inspector on Jan. 31, 1964, and expected to be recalled in two weeks. The job paid $2.45 per hour plus an average bonus of $10 per day and differential rates.

On the following Feb. 7, the company offered him a job as a laborer at the blast furnace division paying $2.10 per hour and a lower bonus. Lupardus refused to accept it on grounds of lesser pay and that an unfamiliar outside job would require him to purchase extra clothing to be used during a brief period.

He was recalled to his inspector's position on Feb. 16. The state board ruled that he had sufficient cause to refuse the laborer's job. The company seeks a reversal of the ruling, claiming it was erroneous, illegal and void.
